ANNOUNCING APPOINTMENT OF SIX ADDITIONAL MEMBERS TO THE FCC'S CONSUMER ADVISORY COMMITTEE

By this Public Notice, the Federal Communications Commission ("Commission") announces the appointment of six additional Members to its Consumer Advisory Committee ("Committee").

MISSION, FUNCTIONS, AND BACKGROUND

The mission of the Committee is to make recommendations to the Commission regarding consumer issues within the jurisdiction of the Commission and to facilitate the participation of consumers (including underserved populations, such as Native Americans, persons living in rural areas, older persons, people with disabilities, and persons for whom English is not their primary language) in proceedings before the Commission. The Committee may consider issues including, but not limited to, the following topics:

- Consumer protection and education;
- Implementation of Commission rules and consumer participation in the FCC rulemaking process; and,
- The impact of new and emerging communication technologies (including availability and affordability of broadband service and Universal Service programs).

The duties of the Committee include providing guidance to the Commission, gathering data and information, and performing those analyses that are necessary to respond to the questions or matters before it.

In November 2000, the Committee was initially established for a period of two years from the original charter date. Following expiration of the original charter, the Committee was subsequently renewed several times. Most recently, the charter was renewed on October 21, 2016, for another two-year term, the ninth such renewal. The Committee operates in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, 5 U.S.C. App. 2 (1988).

APPOINTMENT OF SIX ADDITIONAL MEMBERS

On October 31, 2016 the Commission announced twenty-nine members appointed to the Committee for a term which will expire on October 21, 2018 or when the Committee terminates, whichever is earlier.¹ Subsequently, one member withdrew from the Committee. Chairman Ajit Pai hereby appoints six additional members to the Committee for a term beginning September 1, 2017, and ending October 21, 2018, or, when the Committee terminates, whichever is earlier:

- Consumer Technology Association – Julie Kearney (primary representative)
- Digital Policy Institute – Barry Umansky (primary representative)
- Kyle J. Hildebrand – (serving individually as a subject-matter expert, Special Government Employee)
- T-Mobile – Luisa Lancetti (primary representative)
- William Rinehart – (serving individually as a subject-matter expert, Special Government Employee)
- Wireless Internet Service Providers Association – Alex Phillips (primary representative)

We expect that, with the addition of these new members, the Committee will provide the Commission with guidance on several key consumer issues. Specifically, we expect the Committee to provide guidance on robocall blocking and reassigned numbers, preventing slamming and associated cramming, and outreach on spectrum re-packing.

The full Committee roster by organization/name and primary representative is as follows:
